Follow Direct Business Connections, Inc on Facebook and Twitter.

HONOLULU, July 1, 2010 – Clients of Direct Business Connections, Inc. can now follow us on Facebook and Twitter. Our Twitter name is DBCINCUSA. For Facebook, if you have a Facebook account – conduct a search for Direct Business Connections, Inc.

On both of these networks, we will make announcements about our company, conduct conversations about potential products, and hold general discussions about the insurance industry in Hawaii.

We are excited to utilize these new methods of communication. We feel this is just another avenue to stay in touch with our clients. It gives us an excellent opportunity to hear clients concerns in a more relaxed environment. We want to hear our client's needs more often and in a more expedient matter.

We look forward to our clients conversing with us in this fun and relaxed environment. We hope everyone joins in on our conversations.

About Direct Business Connections, Inc. - Direct Business Connections, Inc. was formed based on our years of experience operating an insurance advisory organization in Hawaii. With our knowledge and expertise we developed a strong working relationship with insurance agents and brokers, insurance companies, and software development companies in Hawaii and throughout the United States. Our expertise range from information technology solutions, property and casualty insurance issues, to insurance inspection services. We are available to provide business services in Hawaii, the Pacific Region, and across the United States.
